

Special Shape Filters

There are times where our customers have space and form factor limitations which preclude the use of a standard filter configuration. In these instances, there are options to design and package the filter in a shape which is convenient for the end user. Most often, a special shape is accomplished by “folding” the filter upon itself one or more times. This permits the end user to have the high performing filter he requires while allowing it to fit in the space allocated. Each situation is unique, please contact the factory to explore available options.
